

Project D Pre-Reading

Article:

<https://www.mckinsey.com/featured-insights/diversity-and-inclusion/women-in-the-workplace>

Thesis:

The Women in the Workplace 2024 report by McKinsey & Company explores the ongoing challenges and slow progress toward gender equality in the corporate world, focusing on women's representation, leadership roles, and the systemic barriers that hinder their advancement.

Pre-Reading Questions:

1. What is the main focus of the "Women in the Workplace 2024" report?
2. In 2024, what percentage of women hold C-suite positions, according to the report?
3. What is one key finding about women's representation in senior leadership roles?
4. How much did the representation of women in manager roles increase from 2015 to 2024?
5. Which area of leadership roles do women most commonly occupy in the C-suite, as noted in the report?
6. What does the report suggest about the pace of progress toward gender equality in the workplace?
7. What was the percentage of women in senior vice president roles in 2024?
8. According to the report, what is a common misleading data point about women's representation in the workplace?
9. What structural issues does the report identify as barriers to women's advancement in corporate settings?
10. What is the significance of examining the quality of women's roles in addition to their overall representation?

The blue

For centuries it's been known that men "have the upper hand" in business.

But in the last 10 years with the rise of feminism, women have been poaching jobs

Who what why

Who— men